

Street Date : September 1st 2016
List Price ($): 15 / 3.99 digital download
UPC: 840096339130
Catalogue #: CMD-16-CD-BA1EP
Package: Digipack (+QR code Booklet download)
Label: Chromodyne.com

Track List with ISRC Codes:

- | | |
|-------------------------|--------------|
| 1. Chemical Reaction | QZ7441602001 |
| 2. Perfect | QZ7441602002 |
| 3. Where The Lights Go? | QZ7441603003 |
| 4. Bittersweet | QM2PV1655861 |

RIYL: John Mayer, Frank Ocean, Ed Sheeran, Hozier, Sam Smith

MARKETING POINTS:

Press and TV Promotion
AAA and College Radio Promotion

Marketing & Management: info@chromodyne.com
Licensing : Steve@Electriclotuslabel.com

Distribution:

Digital: +200 digital outlets, world wide (excluding non participating territories).
Physical USA: info@Chromodyne.com

Video: "Perfect" Release TBA Winter 2016/17

EPK: <http://www.chromodyne.com/ben-anderson>

Social networks

<http://facebook.com/bendersonmusic>
@benandersonmusic (Instagram, Twitter)
<http://www.benandersonmusic.com>

"It's got a great singer/songwriter acoustic vibe to it and it's immediately warm and inviting to just soak your ears in. The addition of strings and keys are perfect accents to the jazzy little groove that Anderson has going on here. Beautifully composed by Anderson and Olivier Zahm, it's not too light to be ignored and has a fantastic finale that will give you a satisfied grin. The lyrics are unabashedly romantic and Anderson delivers them with a sexy little lilt. It's a joyful listen about how you find perfection in the one you love or at least the one you romanticize. One thing is for sure "Perfect" makes me damn curious about the rest of the EP Anderson is releasing, and luckily I won't have to wait long." - Mitchell Hillman, Phoenix New Times.

"Phoenix singer-songwriter, Ben Anderson, creates jazz-tinged indie pop. Anderson shares some sweet sentiments on "Perfect", the first single from Where Did the Lights Go?, his forthcoming release."
YabYum Review

Ben Anderson ups the Singer-Songwriter game with this first release .

Arizona based Ben Anderson unleashes via Chromodyne his first world-wide release, painting rich contemporary nuances with an Oscar Wilde touch of brooding darkness.

Ben Anderson Bio

Music is the beautiful combination of structure and artistic expression. Singer songwriter Ben Anderson writes and performs with balance as his mantra. Anderson's gift for strong melody, harmony, and lyrical content is consistent, even if his sound ventures into other styles of music. His bluesy, soulful voice is a rich blend of John Mayer, Sam Smith, and Jack Johnson. While his soft vocals caress you, but the music behind the caress delivers a satisfying jolt. Born in Phoenix, AZ, picks up his first guitar at 14, and fall under the seductive spell of songwriting.

After graduating from Arizona State University with a bachelor's degree in Kinesiology, becomes a singer-songwriter, going against the grain of convention, strong from his experience playing in jazz bands and rock groups throughout his late teens/early 20's.

In 2014, Anderson recorded his first EP Roosevelt Row over at Grand Canyon Records with AZ studio legend Jack Miller under the helm. The 4-song EP only features acoustic guitar and Anderson's vocals. The song's lyrics are lighter in nature and the music is appreciated for its simplicity.

In the summer of 2015, Anderson enlists Olivier Zahm of Electric Lotus Music to be the producer/engineer/songwriting partner for his second EP. Having the desire to expand his sound both musically and lyrically, Zahm was the perfect complement. Where the Lights Go?, a fully produced, four song EP gaining acclaim by both critics and listeners.

Anderson performs around the Phoenix area, seen haunting the local popular music venues and clubs. Ben's follow up EP is set to be out late/mid of 2017. Stay tuned!